Feeds Castor Oil to Sheiks

Thelma Reed, 16, married a man at Indianapolis and tired of him when he saw him vasseling his hair, she says. So, for revenge, she went to Chicago and took a job in a soda fountain where she put castor oil in all soda served, to sheik-like young men, she reveals. Now she's going back to Tipton.

1 Hanged, 1 Shot, 200 Flee Town In Arkansas "Strike Clean Up"

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., January 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Two strikers who are alleged to have participated in bridge burnings, are en route to the state penitentiary at Little Rock, the bond of another has been forfeited, an alderman has resigned, and a demand has been made for the resignation of Mayor J. L. Clute, at Harrison, according to a dispatch from Harrison to the Arkansas Democrat.

HARRISON, ARK., January 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Harrison today assumed its normal atmosphere after two days of intense excitement, the result of "armed action" by citizens gathered here from a radius of 25 miles, in which one man, was killed, another wounded during a "round up" of alleged strikers, and more than 200 persons were forced to leave the community by a "committee of 1000." Further trouble was not expected to follow the "clean up" of persons believed to be guilty of, or to have had knowledge of bridge burnings and other depredations along the line of the Missouri and Northern Arkansas Railway which precipitated the demonstration.

PRESIDENT HARDING HAS ATTACK OF GRIPPE

WASHINGTON, January 17.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding cancelled all of his engagements today in order to remain in bed on account of an attack of grippe. It was said at the White House that the day of rest was decided on merely as a precautionary measure and that the president's condition showed no serious developments.

Brigadier General Sawyer, the White House physician described the President's indisposition as "a slight attack of grippe, such as about everyone else is having around town."

The President has a little fever intermittently, such as one would "naturally have with the grippe," Dr. Sawyer said.

He added that if Mr. Harding had followed his own inclinations, he would have spent today at his desk.

Epidemic of Grippe Hits Capitol

WASHINGTON, January 17.—(By the Associated Press)—An epidemic of grip has struck official Washington. Secretary of Labor Davis, Postmaster General Work, John Hays Hammond, of the coal commission, and Director Forbes of the Veterans' Bureau, all have had severe colds, which have developed into grippe. Davis, Work, Hammond and Forbes are confined to their homes, but the condition of none is serious. Senator Pomerehne, Ohio, is also a victim of the epidemic. He has been confined to his home for three days with a slight attack of grippe.

Half Million Dollar Fire

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 17.—A repetition of the conflagration of 1904, when practically the entire downtown section of this city was destroyed, was threatened by fire early today when two five-story brick buildings in the heart of the clothing and warehouse district were destroyed. The loss was estimated at $500,000, partly covered by insurance. There were no casualties. The cause of the fire has not been determined. The fire started shortly after 1 a. m., within a short distance of the 1904 disaster. The building was occupied by drygoods and clothing firms. Fanned by a high wind the blaze spread to an adjacent building.

Six alarums, calling out all available apparatus, were sounded. Cold and ice greatly handicapped the fire fighters.

When it was seen that the two buildings could not be saved the firemen concentrated their efforts on the surrounding buildings mostly warehouses. Slight damage by smoke and water was reported by the latter's owners. At three a. m. the fire department officials reported the flames under control.

Trial Nears Close

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 17.—The trial of "Big Jim" Morton, accused leader of a gang which robbed the West Cleveland Bank of $67,000, in 1919, was nearing an end today. The state had only one more witness to call. Most of the time of the counsel for the defense was expected to be taken up with the reading of four depositions from persons in Chicago and Marquette, Mich., in an effort to prove Morton was not at the scene of the robbery.

42 Caught In Raids

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 17.—Forty-two alleged liquor law violators were taken in a series of raids here last night by federal and state officers. A large quantity of "musika" known as Assyrian absinthe was seized in one of the raids, according to federal officials.

College Destroyed

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 17.—Only the wall of Rock Hill College at Elliott City near here, the last of the notable Howard county Catholic institutions, remain standing today as a result of the fire last night which destroyed the administration building and the college dormitory, three story structures. Brother Feljan, president of the institution, estimated the loss to the building at $200,000 which he said was partly covered by insurance. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Stinnes Sees Possibility Of Terrible Bloodshed In Ruhr

(Copyright 1923, By The United Press)
BERLIN, January 17.—(By the United Press)—Germany's great industrial leader, Hugo Stinnes, foresees the possibility of terrible bloodshed in the Ruhr Valley if the French try to work the mines at the point of the bayonet.

Knowing the hard-headedness of the Westphalians whose harshness is bred in them like that of the fighting West Virginians, he believes there is the possibility of a ghastly time.

The Westphalian is a German through and through. His father and his grandfather before him worked in the mines, and he takes pride in them.

According to Stinnes' view, they will not brook being driven to the pits by French bayonets or supplanted by "French hirelings."

Stinnes conjured up the picture of these hard grim-faced workers in the bowels of the earth trooping from the mines before dawn and attacking the French, guerrilla fashion.

Such a clash would result in a series of the bloodiest combats ever fought in a mine war.

Stinnes also believes that the Rhenish Westphalians' coal output is destined to decrease under French dictation.

Stinnes feels that Germany has now reached an absolutely united front with the exception of a few scattered communists.

He holds this is a great achievement.

If the French grab the coal taxes or try to exploit the mines without paying anything above the mere winners' wages, it will amount to unparallelled robbery, Stinnes holds.

Germany then must make clear to the whole world that robbery and breach of treaty is being committed.

Sweeping Cut In Dealings In Alcohol As A Step Toward Dry Enforcement

NEW YORK, January 17.—(By the Associated Press)—To protect the public from poisonous whiskey bought at drug stores on prescriptions, the government has decided to bottle all bulk liquors now held in bond and to guarantee them as to proof and quality.

The announcement was made today by Frank Bowers, internal revenue collector for the second district of New York upon receipt of orders from David H. Blair, internal revenue commissioner at Washington.

"Hereafter the public will be assured that any liquor released from a bonded warehouse will be safe to drink," Collector Bowers said.

"So many persons have been poisoned by liquor obtained at drug stores on a doctor's prescription that Commissioner Blair decided it was time to take steps for their safety."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(By the A. P.)—Drastic curtailment of dealings in denatured and industrial alcohol has been decided upon by federal prohibition authorities as the next step in their campaign to combat the illicit liquor traffic.

Orders have been issued for the revocation of scores of dealers' permits, among these being that issued to one of the largest alcohol producing plants in the country.

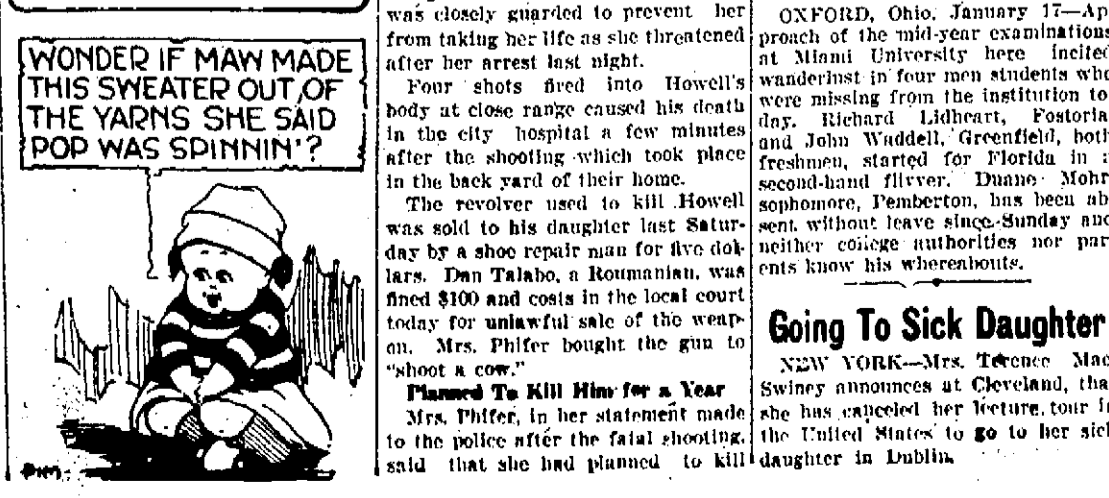

Decision to withdraw the license of this plant and to refuse to re-issue licenses for which applications were pending, was reached at a conference of prohibition officials at headquarters here.

Investigation made by acting Director Yellowley, of New York, of recent supplies of "bootleg whiskey" led to seizure of 3,500 gallons of re-distilled alcohol and a number of stills which were designed for use in this operation. The New York director obtained evidence that much of this product was retailed in the guise of having been landed by rum runners.

The conference of prohibition officers was given further detailed reports on the investigation which had been made of the recent operations of the rum running fleet in the vicinity of Highlands, N. J. The reports were not made public, but there now is no disposition at prohibition headquarters to deny the probability that a considerable amount of liquor was landed.

Further Drastic Action Expected From The French

(By the United Press)
While a war of wills raged in the Ruhr Valley with German industrialists defying France's ultimatum and submitting to arrest today rather than deliver coal to the invaders, half a dozen other conflicts were brewing in the old world caldron.

Dispatches received by The United Press said uprisings in Bavaria were rumored.

Clash of Greeks and Turks in Thrace with British troops likely to be involved were feared.

In Eastern Prussia only a temporary truce restrained invading Lithuanians from becoming embroiled with Poles and Germans.

Russia is reported to be moving her vast armies in significant manner.

The "Little Entente" (Serbia, Jugoslavia and Rumania) apparently considered the time ripe to pick trouble with "White" Hungary, and have complained to Paris of invasion by the latter forces.

In the Ruhr it was "Prussian stubbornness" against "French avarice," according to French and German versions, respectively.

France is determined the Germans shall deliver coal. Having invaded the Ruhr, the French do not intend to be made a laughing stock by German wit.

The industrialists of the Ruhr are equally determined not to give in and are seeking in every way possible to boycott the invaders.

Feeling against the occupation runs high in Berlin. Tremendous anti-French demonstrations have been staged and there is talk of breaking off all relations with Belgium and France.

General Simon's ultimatum, delivered to coal operators at Dueseldorf to start the mines and furnish coal by this morning or suffer further penalties, expired without a move of compliance by the Germans.

Prominent operators, including Thyssen, were arrested. French officers were driven from the pits near Essen when they sought to inspect the mines.

German Coal Magnate Placed Under Arrest

DUESSELDORF, Jan. 17.—(By the A. P.)—Representatives of the German magnates failed to appear this morning before the control commission, sending word they had decided to obey the instructions of the Berlin government instead of the French orders as to coal deliveries. This placing the next move squarely up to the French occupational forces.

The ultimatum delivered to the industrial leaders yesterday, directing them to resume coal deliveries, under heavy penalties for failure, which expires at 4 p. m. No action will be taken by the French, it is stated, until the full 24 hours from the delivery of the ultimatum, four o'clock yesterday afternoon, has elapsed.

French To Confiscate Property

DUESSELDORF, January 17.—(By the Associated Press)—The Ruhr magnates were informed late this afternoon that their property will be confiscated and will be worked under French management for the benefit of the reparations account.

Military Occupation Completed

DUESSELDORF, January 17.—(By the Associated Press)—It was officially announced by General DeGoutte this afternoon that the military operations of the Ruhr occupation now are completely finished.

To Begin Operating Mine Tomorrow

ESSEN, January 17.—(By the Associated Press)—The French occupational authorities announced this afternoon that they will begin operating the mines of the Ruhr district tomorrow, requisitioning German labor if necessary.

The Ruhr coal and industrial magnates who refused to co-operate with the French will be prosecuted before a court martial.

Clashes On Streets Of Dortmund

DORTMUND, Jan. 17.—(By the A. P.)—Demonstrations by nationalists in the streets of Dortmund late last evening caused clashes with communist labor elements but intervention by the French forces was not necessitated. The French have reinforced the troops of occupation here as further trouble is expected this evening. The nationalists intend to hold a street parade which General Hampon, the French commander, has forbidden, announcing he would suppress it if it were attempted.

Situation In Essen Perplexing

ESSEN, Jan. 17.—It was intimated that French circles in Essen are finding the situation perplexing but feel that even should mines stop operation, the burden of suffering would fall on the Germans while the occupying forces could continue applying penalties until their demands were met.

To Build Branch

WHEELING, W. Va., —Contract for construction of a six-mile extension of the Pennsylvania railroad's Bellaire-Powhatan branch has been let by the railroad company. The branch extends from Powhatan along the Ohio river to Woodland dam, and will reach the new operations of the Mahor collieries company, of Cleveland, reported to be the largest bituminous mining plant in the world.

J. M. Anderson, and brother of Altoona, Penna., received the contract which involves a sum of between $400,000 and $500,000. Completion of the extension is expected before the end of the year.

GOING DOWN!

NEW YORK, January 17.—(By the Associated Press)—German marks established another new low record at 55-100ths of a cent a hundred or 18.181 to the American dollar. At the normal or pre-war rate of exchange, 18.181 marks would have been worth $4.327.

High Prices Mark Tobacco Sales

LEXINGTON, KY., January 17.—Another big sale of the 1922 tobacco crop was made Monday by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association, when the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company of Winston-Salem, N. C., purchased from the co-operative through its Kentucky Vice-President, T. H. Kirk, approximately 40,000,000 pounds of the new crop.

Details were not available, as the grades to be taken by the Reynolds Company had not been worked out, it was said at the offices of the Association.

The sale today increases the total of the 1922 crop sold by the burley co-operative for its members to 65,000,000, as ten manufacturers and dealers brought from the co-operative a week ago, 25,000,000 pounds.

Hundreds of additions to the membership of the Association for the crop years of 1923-1924, were reported at the offices of the Field Service Division of the Association.

The prices received for the tobacco in the sale negotiated today were said to be the highest ever received by the burley tobacco growers, except during the high price season of the World War.

Plea For American Aid For The Cause Of Education In China Is Made By Prof. Hung

"Inject some of the best elements of Americanism into the Chinese system of education, and serve out larger doses of this wonderful American product, 'pep', and then China will wake up and become a helpful co-worker with America in building a new and happier world," said Professor William Hung, a native of China, who gave an interesting talk in the local high school auditorium Tuesday night. H. K. Caskey, executive secretary of Peking University, also gave a fine talk.

These men are in this country in the interest of Peking University, explaining that help extended to Peking University means help to China in every way. They point out that help and favors shown China by this country are sure to be repaid many times over.

The meeting last night was arranged by the Methodist and Presbyterian churches and Rev. Hugh I. Evans of Second Presbyterian church, presided as chairman, and introduced the speakers.

"China in the Coming Drama," was the subject of the main address of the evening, made by Mr. Hung. The speaker declared that there are three periods in world history. The Mediterranean, the Atlantic and the Pacific. The Atlantic is the period of the world's history. Since the War, the Pacific has risen to be the chief arena of world conflict and achievement.

Professor Hung pointed out that, although the antecedent of American culture is European, the future destiny of America is more closely bound with Asia than with Europe. The speaker commended this country's part in the War and its relief work in various parts of the European continent, but he said:

"America arrived on the stage of the European drama during the performance of its closing act and the real role of the new actor is to be found in a new play staged elsewhere. Geographically, America has a coast line on the Pacific larger than that of China and Japan combined. It is possible to connect America with Asia by building a tunnel across the narrow Bering Strait. Historically American statesmanship has often caught the vision of the possibilities of the Far East: the possession of the Philippines made America an Asiatic power; Japan was opened by Commodore Perry; the first foreign Consul in China was an American; sent by no less an American than George Washington himself."

Mr. Hung said that China has not only a territory larger than that of America, a population four times that of America, an undeveloped natural wealth larger than that of America; not only many characteristics similar to those of America, but also a people who have unlimited confidence in America and a deep gratitude for what America has done for China. He asked his audience to imagine what a tremendous future it will be when American and China work together for prosperity, democracy and peace.

Referring to the commercial opportunity of America in China, Professor Hung mentioned that since the War the number of American business-men in China has doubled, the number of American business firms in China has tripled and the volume of business has grown four times; and this in spite of business depression and H. C. T. in America famine and political instability in China, and the heavy tax American business men in China have to pay to the American government, while their competitors—the Japanese and the British—are free from such taxation by their home government.

"China is like a great giant just awakened from a long sleep, rubbing his eyes and looking for a worthwhile job. It is a wonderful opportunity to have this giant share your burden of service. Wake this giant a little bit more, speed him up, give him a large dose of that peculiar American product, 'pep'; and he will catch up and be a real helpful co-worker with you in the building of a new and happier world order."

"This means," says Professor Hung, "to inject some of the best elements of Americanism into the Chinese system of education." This is what Peking University is doing. The University is supported and managed by Americans and Chinese who see that the destinies of America and China are closely bound together. It pays for America to be interested in educating the Chinese. If they are better educated, they will produce more, they will earn more and they will buy more from America. If they are better educated, they will understand and appreciate better the American ideals and methods, and they will serve better with America in the great world task.

Professor Hung concludes that he has made only three points. "First the Pacific world is the special sphere for American leadership. Secondly, the most strategic approach for America is the fulfillment of her Divine Mission in China. Thirdly, in order that America may fully capitalize her advantage in China she should keep her interest in the education of the Chinese people."

Mr. Caskey said, in part:

"The hearing on China is a part of a drive which is on throughout the U. S. to secure $100,000 for equipment for Peking University in order that it may meet its obligations, in training Christian young men to do a great part in making a new China. China above all things needs leaders and it is the conviction of those most intimate with the situation that such men as are trained in Peking University furnish the type of leadership which China most needs."

"The Church must therefore meet these obligations in a substantial way if it is to go forward with this great task it has taken upon itself."

16 Hens Laying 14 Eggs a Day

Chinese Tablets Work Wonders for Mr. Bailey. Easy to Try.

"We didn't have much confidence in Don Sung, so we tried it first on 16 hens. We started Jan. 20th, when these hens were laying almost nothing—2 or 3 eggs a week. In three weeks they were laying 10 to 14 a day, or over 6 dozen a week. I'm glad we gave Don Sung a trial. We can't praise it enough."—H. H. Bailey, Box 15, Clifton, Tex.

Six dozen extra eggs a week, at winter prices! And a $1 package of Don Sung lasts 16 hens 3 months. No wonder Mr. Bailey is glad he tried it. But will you let it to you just as we did to him with this offer:

Give Don Sung to 15 hens. Then watch results for 30 days. If it doesn't show you a big increase in egg production, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) acts directly on the egg-laying organs, and is beneficial in every way. It makes hens healthy and happy. They scratch and sing, flocks develop earlier. The whole flock lays regularly in any season, in any weather, when eggs are scarce and high. Can you afford to ignore the wonderful reports you are hearing from Don Sung users everywhere? Why not let us show you the same results, with your own flock? Don Sung is no trouble to use. It costs nothing to try. All we ask is a chance to prove our claims, entirely at our risk. Get Don Sung from your local dealer, or send 50 cents for package by mail prepaid (large size, $1, holds three times as much). Russell-Dunlap Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Fireman Back On Duty

Davis Arrested

Officers Braithorn and Haley Tuesday arrested a man giving the name of J. J. Davis, who resided at 2323 Gallia street. He is charged with assault and will be taken to Russell, where the police say Davis is accused of assaulting a C. & O. yardmaster.

Cox Faces Assault Charge

In Municipal court Tuesday Clifford Link swore out a warrant against Carl Cox, of Gallia street, charging him with assault. Link claims Cox struck him over the head with an iron bar following some trouble they had on Gallia street Monday. Cox will be given a hearing in Municipal court Thursday.

Link told the police he was a solicitor and was selling novelties under the proper license.

Gets Commission

Jesse Bales, who was appointed postmaster at Jackson, received his commission today and will take charge of the office here in a few days.

Harsha Files Bond

W. H. Harsha, who was designated as the new postmaster of Portsmouth several days ago, was officially notified of his appointment through a communication received from the Assistant Postmaster General yesterday.

The appointment is for a term of four years and dates from January 12. Mr. Harsha promptly executed his bond and forwarded it to the department in Washington and no doubt his commission will be sent along by President Harding within a few days.

Bible Class To Meet At Home For Aged Women

Starting the new year right is the plan of the Loyal Daughters' Bible class of First Christian, and in order to do that they will hold their first class meeting of the year at the Home for Aged Women, corner Front and Chillicothe streets, Thursday evening January 18, 7:30 to 10:00, when they will have a very fine program, one out of the ordinary, since it is to be made up of lots, future class members, it is hoped. Another of the features that will make the Home happy is a tea-towel shower.

A special invitation is extended to those members of the class who are working in other departments of the school who are carried on the honorary roll of the class.

Trade School Open ed To Navy Recruits

It was announced Tuesday by the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station at Ashland, Ky., that the Navy Department has authorized the opening of all trade schools to recruits after they have finished the preliminary three months' course of naval training. This includes the following trade schools: Electrical, Machinists, Coppersmiths, Radio, Yeoman and Musicians. Graduates from these schools are assigned to ships at higher ratings than ordinarily, consequently receiving a larger scale of pay.

At the present time due to many vacancies in the higher ratings, the Navy offers exceptional advantages to the ambitious young men of eighteen to thirty years of age.

Local Congregation Raises Quota

A meeting of ministers of United Brethren churches in the Portsmouth District was held Monday at the local U. B. church with Dr. J. H. Harris of Westerville in charge. Dr. Harris, who is superintendent of the southern Ohio conference called it to receive reports from each church on its work of raising its quota in the Oberlin college million dollar endowment campaign. Each church reported its minimum quota raised and when Rev. E. H. Dailey of the local church reported that his congregation had raised the $4200 quota assigned to it Dr. Harris promptly gave the local church another $500 quota which Rev. Dailey says is sure to be met in a short time.

The meeting was attended by U. B. ministers from as far north as Waverly and as far east as Crown City, O.

A boat that had approached unnoticed from the shore came scraping and bumping against the great hull of the Arabella, and a furious voice sent up a bawling shout. From the ship's belfry two silver notes rang clear and sharp, and a moment or two later the boat's whistle shrilled a long wail.

The sounds disturbed Captain Blood from his disgruntled slumbers. "A note for you from the Deputy-Governor," said the master shortly, as he proffered a folded sheet.

Blood broke the seal and read. "Blood broke the seal and read. Pity, loosely clad in shirt and breeches, leaped against the rail the while and watched him, unmistakable concern imprinted on his fair, frank countenance.

"It is a very peremptory summons," said Blood, and passed the note to his friend.

The young master's gray eyes skimmed it. Thoughtfully he stroked his golden beard.

"You'll not go?" he said, between question and assertion.

"Why not? Haven't I been a daily visitor at the fort . . . ?"

"But it'll be about the old Wolf that he wants to see you. It gives him a grievance at last."

"Why did ye let Wolverstone and the others go?" cried Jeremy, with a touch of bitterness. "You should have seen the danger."

"How could I in honesty have prevented that? It was in the bargain. And as Pitt did not answer him: 'Ye see?' he said, and

SOAKS RIGHT IN AND LIMBERS UP STIFF JOINTS

Pharmacists Call It "Joint Ease." Because It's For Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only.

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, painful joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stiffness in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds' rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

All druggists dispense it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere.

circumstances that were very similar. That was in Bridgetown on the night of the Spanish raid. Mary Trull would tell you of it. She was present."

He clapped his hat on his head with a certain abrupt fierceness, and strode angrily away, before she could answer or even grasp the full significance of what he had said.

CHAPTER XXIII

Peter Blood stood in the pillared portico of Government House, with unseeing eyes that were laden with pain and anger.

He was aroused by the return of the negro who had gone to announce him, and following now this slave, he made his way through the house to the wide piazza behind it, in whose shade Colonel Bishop and my Lord Julian Wade took what little air there was.

"So ye're come," the Deputy-Governor hailed him, and followed the greeting by a series of grunts of vague but apparently ill-humored import.

With scowling brow and in self-sufficient tones, Colonel Bishop delivered himself.

"I have sent for you, Captain Blood because of certain news that has just reached me. I am informed that yesterday evening a frigate left the harbour having on board your associate Wolverstone and a hundred men of the hundred and fifty that were serving under you. His lordship and I shall be glad to have your explanation of how you came to permit that departure."

"Permit," quoth Blood. "I ordered it."

Bishop's great face seemed to swell and its high color to deepen. He swung to Lord Julian.

"You hear that, my lord? Deliberately he has let Wolverstone loose upon the seas again—Wolverstone, the worst of all that gang of pirates after himself. Why, this thing is treason! It's a matter for a court-martial."

"Will you cease your blather of mutiny and treason and court-martial?" Blood put on his hat, and sat down unbidden. "I have sent Wolverstone to inform Hagthorpe and the rest of my lads that they're one clear month in which to follow my example, quit piracy and get back to their boucans or their logwood, or else sail out of the Caribbean Sea. That's what I've done."

"But the men?" his lordship interposed in his level, cultured voice. "This hundred men that Wolverstone has taken with him."

"There are those of my crew who have no taste for King James' service, and have preferred to seek work of other kinds. It was in our compact, my lord, that there should be no constraining of men."

"I will remind you that the object in view was to rid the Caribbean of buccanniers. Now, I've taken the most effective way of accomplishing that object. The knowledge that I've entered the King's service should in itself go far toward disbanding the fleet of which I was until lately a leader."

Lord Julian forestalled a fresh outburst on the part of Bishop.

"It is possible," he said, "that my Lord Sunderland will be satisfied provided that the solution is such as you promise."

But Bishop's fury had by now reached a stage in which it was not to be restrained.

"DON'T STIR FROM WHERE YOU ARE. MY LORD, OR THERE MAY BE AN ACCIDENT."

"This is a matter in which your lordship must allow me to be the better judge," he roared. "And, anyhow I'll take the risk of acting on my own responsibility."

Lord Julian abandoned the struggle. He smiled wearily, shrugged, and waived a hand in implied resignation. The Deputy-Governor stormed on.

"Since my lord here has given you a commission, I can't regularly deal with you out of hand for piracy as you deserve. But you shall answer before a court-martial for your action in the matter of Wolverstone, and take the consequences."

"I see," said Blood. Now we come to it. And it's yourself as that court-martial. So that ye can wipe off old scores by hanging me, it's little ye care how ye do it."

"Before you go," said Bishop, "and to save you from an idle wish, I'll tell you that the Harbor-Master and the Commandant have their orders. You don't leave Port Royal, my fine galleons bird."

Peter Blood stiffened, and his vivid blue eyes stabbed the bloated face of his enemy. He passed his long cane into his left hand, and with his right thrust negligently into the breast of his doublet he swung to Lord Julian, who was thoughtfully frowning.

Captain Blood's right hand had re-emerged from the breast of his doublet, bringing with it a long pistol with silver mountings richly chased, which he leveled within a foot of the Deputy-Governor's head.

"Don't stir from where you are, my lord, or there may be an accident," said he.

And my lord, who had been moving to Bishop's assistance, stood instantly arrested.

Blood cast his cane from him, thus disengaging his left hand. "Be good

Is Winter Time Your Backache Time?

Does Your Back Foretell Every Change of the Weather? Do You Feel Old and Stiff and Suffer Sharp, Rheumatic Pains? Then Look To Your Kidneys!

A few winter months your backache months? Does every cold, chill or attack of grip leave you lame, aching and all worn out? Does your back throb and ache until it seems you just can't keep going another day?

Then look to your kidneys! Grip, colds and chills throw a heavy strain on the kidneys. They overload the blood with poisons and impurities that the kidneys have to filter off. The kidneys weaken under this rush of new work; become congested and inflamed.

It's little wonder, then, that every cold finds you suffering with torturing backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities.

Don't wait! Delay may lead to serious or chronic kidney sickness. Realize that your kidneys have weakened in fighting the cold-created poisons and give them the help they need. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills today. Doan's have helped thousands at such times and should help you. Ask your neighbors.

"Use Doan's," Say These Portsmouth Folks:

George Rogers, 416 Gay Street, says: "I got such sharp, piercing pains through the small of my back I could hardly straighten. Mornings I was lame and felt worn out and tired. My limbs and shoulders were stiff and at times I became dizzy and black specks came before my eyes. My kidneys were sluggish and irregular. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Bond & Blake's Pharmacy. After using them I again felt well."

Mrs. C. Keffer, 80 1/2 St. Street, says: "I had the grip and it left my kidneys weak. I had a dull aching across my kidneys and sharp twinges through the small of my back. My kidneys acted too freely. I had dizzy headaches and was all out of fix. My husband went to Streich's Drug Store for the best kidney remedy and bought Doan's Kidney Pills. The first box of Doan's eased the pain in my back and continued use cured me."

Goes On Warpath In Piketon Poolroom

Special To Times

PIKETON, Jan. 17.—J. W. Lucas, alias Billy Dob, was assessed a fine of $5.00 and costs when arraigned before Mayor Bateman on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The arrest was the aftermath of a rampage which Billy staged at Price's pool room on main street Sunday evening.

According to reports, Billy went into the pool room Sunday evening and bought fifty cents worth of sandwiches and when Mr. Price started to wrap them up Billy told him he need not as he would eat them there. Mr. Price told Billy that it was against the rules of the pool room for gentlemen of color to eat therein. Billy became greatly offended and grabbing a pool cue from its rack he attempted to intimidate the proprietor and occupants of the pool room. Mr. Price attempted to arbitrate the difference with Billy but it seems that Billy was not in a receptive mood and he continued his war dance for some time. Mr. Price's patience finally became exhausted and taking his cue from the place of repose behind the counter he proceeded to restore order. When Billy saw Price approaching with his stick he beat a hasty retreat, breaking the glass in one of the doors in his hurried exit from the pool room. Monday Mr. Price swore out a warrant for Billy's arrest which resulted in his being fined $5 and the usual trimmings when he appeared before Mayor Bateman.

Until the discovery of Chiropractic there was no certain way of knowing what was the CAUSE of our many ailments, neither was it known how to get rid of them.

Whatever the nature of the malady you suffer with, it is due to pressure on nerves along the sides of the backbone. This pressure interferes with nerve function; hence, inflammation, pain and distress are manifested in whatever part or organ is supplied by the nerves.

The cut shows a section of the backbone and how the nerves become impinged and cause disease, such as Headaches, Eyes, Ear, Nose and Throat troubles, Tonsillitis, Bronchitis, Heart and Lung Troubles, Rheumatism, Liver, Stomach, Gall Stones, Kidney trouble, Appendicitis, Constipation, Female trouble and others too numerous to mention.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, weas, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Miss Dolly Wise—I was reading in the Times that the School Board was to have Boy Scouts to do traffic duty at the school houses. Why don't the School Board and citizens of our city go to the Safety Department and get enough traffic officers to take care of the safety of our children to and from school? That is what we pay our taxes for, and it is time right now for this department to take action and break up this speeding around our city. Don't wait till they kill some one again. Now is the time to do good. Just think of a city this size that cannot have enough officers to take care of the traffic! Now is the time to start. What good will Boy Scouts do? We don't pay them. We pay our taxes for police, not Boy Scouts. I am for more traffic officers.

A TIMES READER.
One traffic cop would be enough if all violators were given a jail sentence instead of a fine or a warning. If the careless drivers knew what was coming to them, if caught, they would not be so anxious to "step on her." Then too, I think the citizens could help, by taking the license number of all machines they saw exceeding the speed limit and reporting them.

Dear Dolly—I wish you would print the Building Code or tell me where I can get it. TIMES READER.
It is too long to print here, but if you will call at the city building on Second street, the city auditor will let you read it over.

Dear Dolly—Which should be served first at a dinner, salad or meat, or should they be served at the same time? Also, should vegetables be served with the meat or separately? When ordering at a hotel is it proper to order the dessert when ordering meat or salad, or should they be ordered when one is ready to be served with same? Who should order, the fellow or girl, husband or wife. If there is a guest should they be asked to order? IGNORANCE.

The informal dinner to which only a few guests are invited is served almost like the formal dinner; but where there is only one maid it is customary to do a good deal of the serving on the table. For this simple dinner, soup, a roast, two vegetables, a salad, dessert and coffee amply suffice. Soup may be served by the hostess from a tureen. The maid takes one soup plate at a time from the serving table, placing it in front of the hostess; when it is filled with one ladle of soup she passes it to the guest and brings on another. Fish may be served by the host and passed in the same manner as the soup. The roast is carved by the host; but entrees, if included in the Men do neglect their wives shamefully, but then the wives should not expect their busy husbands to show them the same attention that the make-believe and would-be husbands that are pictured on the screen show their supposed wives and affluence. The actors and actresses get paid for doing those things on the screen, but they evidently don't do it off the screen and in their homes, or they would not be changing partners so often. Husbands take a lot for granted, and if the wives want to be happy they will have to be content with what they get, and take what they don't get for granted, too. I did not read the article you mentioned, but I have read so many along the same line that I am sure there is nothing new on the subject. They all run about alike, and all mention the same things, but what they say does not have any effect on the people they are trying to reach or benefit. The ones who read these articles do not need the advice contained therein, and the ones who need advice do not read them, or if they do, they go in one ear and out the other, without making the slightest impression. If you will call up the place you mentioned they will tell you the names of the characters you asked about.

SOCIAL NEWS

An interesting wedding that will come as a surprise to their many friends is that of Miss Nellie Elizabeth Griver and Mr. Gerald H. Millhuff, a popular young couple of Sciotoville, who were married this morning at six o'clock.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Griver, 5029 Gallia avenue, by Rev. P. A. Cross, pastor of the Methodist church of that place. There were no attendants, the bride's parents being the only witnesses to the impressive ceremony.

Miss Griver, an attractive blonde, looked unusually charming in a handsome tallcoat of brown velvet, fur trimmed, with hat and other accessories of a contrasting shade. Her bridal bouquet was a corsage of cream roses.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. Millhuff and his bride left on a trip through the South, going as far as Ashland via motor. Their first stop will be Chattanooga, Tenn., where they will visit relatives. They will go from there to various other places of interest and upon their return will take up their residence with the bride's parents, she being an only daughter of the household.

Mr. Millhuff has been serving as substitute stenographer at the Peoples Paving Brick Company for the past six months, and previous to that time she was employed as stenographer with The Times Publishing Company.

Mr. Millhuff is a rising young business man, being owner and proprietor of the Millhuff Grocery Store, 5406 Harrison avenue, Sciotoville.

Mrs. Eugene Crichton will entertain the members of the Martha Washington Club tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at her home, 1047 Kinney's Lane.

Mrs. Robt. L. Kuhn and little daughter, Mabel, of 1100 Ninth street, are in Athens today, visiting Mr. Kuhn's aunt, Mrs. A. F. Kendall at the State hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hendren are moving from 915 Washington street to 418 Court street.

Mrs. J. B. Fullerton, 1524 Mound street, will entertain the Ladies' Mission Circle of the First Baptist church Thursday at 2 p. m. Mrs. Anna Childs will lead the devotionals.

Mrs. Gene Gower, president of the society, will have charge of an interesting program on India. Post-card pictures of India will be shown.

Mrs. Chas. Robbins has for her topic Oregone Bible Women.

Mrs. Robert Sutter, India, the Land of Contrasts.

Mrs. Chas. Newman, The Story of Nandamul.

Clough Memorial Hospital, where the White Cross bandages were sent, will also be discussed.

All the ladies of the church interested in Foreign Missions are most cordially invited to be present.

Stanley L. Davis has returned to his home, Hyde Park, Cincinnati, after a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Taylor of 1216 Second street.

Group 1 of Trinity Ladies Aid Society will meet tomorrow afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. George Wolford, 817 1-2 Eighth street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Winchell of Ninth street had at dinner guest Sunday Mrs. Edna Malcolm, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church.

The Woman's City Club will meet next Monday afternoon, January 22nd, at the home of Mrs. Henry Heer, 1405 Offshore street. Others of the committee include Mrs. C. A. Zull, chairman, Mrs. A. A. Wilson and Mrs. Raymond D. York.

The following interesting program has been arranged for the meeting:

Musical Selection—The Czerninski Trio.

Vocal Solo—Mrs. Roy Lynn.

Talk—"The Under Privileged Child"—Rev. Hugh A. Evans.

Musical—Valse Caprice (by request)—David Morgan.

This promises to be one of the most enjoyable meetings of the club, and it is hoped that all members will be present.

Mrs. Leon G. Marshall, who recently underwent a serious operation at Mercy Hospital, is now considered out of danger, which will be good news to her many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Firman Smith, 1713 Offshore street, arrived home Tuesday night from a delightful four weeks' visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cooke, in Greensboro, North Carolina.

Section Four, Woman's Union, First Christian church, will meet tomorrow, Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Belle Lechner, 1702 Twelfth street, at 2 o'clock p. m. A full attendance of members is expected and desired. Visitors will be welcome.

Mrs. Donald Blair will entertain the Club of Clubs Thursday afternoon at her home in the Overland apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Winchell entertained with a small dinner party last evening at their new home on Ninth street for the pleasure of Mr. Herbert Wheeler, of Arkansas City, Ark., who is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wheeler, of Scioto Trail, while in the city on business for the Breese Manufacturing Company of that city.

The table was attractively arranged for the occasion and covers were laid for Mr. Herbert Wheeler, Mr. Fred Donahoe, Mr. Clay Mitchell, Miss Anna Hook, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Winchell and sons, Charles and John, and daughter, Marie.

The many friends of Miss Margaret Stevens will be sorry to hear of her serious illness in a hospital at Ann Arbor, Michigan. She has acute appendicitis, but an operation may not be necessary at this time. Miss Stevens' home is near South Webster.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Tingle, of Franklin Furnace, recently entertained her brother and sister, Calvin Doty and Mrs. Ella Ekins of Ironton.

At the meeting of the Local Helpers Sunday School Class of the First Christian Church held last evening at the home of Mrs. Herbert Lawson, 1412 Mound Street, the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Mrs. Alice Gore.
Vice President—Mrs. Merle Horner.
Second Vice President—Mrs. Herbert Lawson.

Secretary—Mrs. Harry Frye.
Treasurer—Miss Ada Jackson.

At the close of the business session the social hour was enjoyed. Those present included Mrs. Earl Donahoe and son Harold, Mrs. Harry Frye, Mrs. Blanche Musser, Mrs. Pete Younger and children, Howard and June, Mrs. Emory Clark and children, Gene and Bobby, Mrs. Theodore Ribble and daughter Helen Louise, Mrs. James Nelson, Mrs. J. C. Winkler, Mrs. Merle Horner and daughter Ruth, and the Misses Essie Thomas, Lonnie Buffington, Martha Dayenport, Margaret Turley and the teacher, Mrs. Alice Gore.

The regular choir practice of the Central Presbyterian church will be held tomorrow evening at seven o'clock. All singers are urged to be present.

The New Century Club will meet Friday afternoon at the K. of P. Hall, Fourth and Washington Streets. The program for the afternoon includes a playlet directed by Mrs. Walter Gableman, and a song by the club, Mrs. C. E. Dowling will be in charge of the social hour. As this is guest day, a large crowd is expected.

Miss Eleanor Ellison of Franklin avenue left this afternoon for Hollidaysburg, Pennsylvania, to resume her studies at Highland Hall school. Miss Ellison was detained at home on account of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. J. N. Ellison, who underwent an operation for appendicitis on New Year's day. She is now considered out of danger and her friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Radin of 502 Waller street returned last evening from Columbus, where they spent the week-end with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Radin of Upper Arlington.

Mrs. Elmer Mayne of Ironton and her guest, Miss Georgia DeMarco, of Springfield, Ohio, will arrive the last of the week for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Vetter of Fourth street.

Mrs. John C. Chandler of Timmonds avenue and Miss Jennie Suiters of Hamilton, Mo., have returned from a few days' visit with Mrs. C. L. Huffman of Ironton.

The Junior Class of the P. H. S. will give a party Saturday evening in the gym of the school. The entertainment committee is making extensive arrangements for the event.

THE LIFE OF A HOME

A healthy, happy, contented wife is the life and joy of the home and the greatest inspiration a man can have, yet how many homes in America are blighted by the ill-health and sufferings of the wife and mother. It may be backache, headache, the tortures of a displacement or some other ailment peculiar to her sex, which makes her life a burden. Every woman in this condition should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs to restore her to health and happiness, for statistics prove that it benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it.—Advertisement.

MARRIAGE

A LA MODE

IN Upper India, girls who were not fastened in childhood are so decorated before their wedding day.

The nose ring is as symbolical of married life there as is the finger ring in this country. Widows remove the nose ring. At weddings, both bride and bridegroom are veiled to protect them against the "evil eye."

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Voorheis entertained with an attractive dinner party Sunday evening at their home 1709 Robinson avenue in honor of Mr. Voorheis' birthday anniversary. The table was prettily appointed with a large white birthday cake decorated with the requisite number of candles, and places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Dan Voorheis and son Francis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Voorheis and son LeRoy, Mrs. Mary E. Voorheis, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. David Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolfe, Mrs. L. R. Melcher, Mrs. Jack Redman, Messrs. James Smith, Ben H. Voorheis and George Alexander. After the dinner the remainder of the evening was spent socially an impromptu musical program being rendered by several of the guests present.

Mr. Voorheis received many beautiful gifts in honor of the happy occasion.

The following taken from Tuesday's Wellston Sentinel is of local interest, as Mr. Malloy is a former resident of this city and county and is the father of Mrs. Corn Gies of 1311 Kinney street:

"Yesterday was the 87th birthday anniversary of Mr. Patrick Malloy, of this city. On account of his feeble state of health and the sickness of the family, no reunion was held as last year.

"But he was surprised when two of his old comrades of Company F, 27th Ohio Regiment, called on him. They were Rev. Robert Farmer of Coalton and J. F. Woodruff of Jackson. The latter commanded his company on Sherman's grand march to the sea. He gave great praise to our grand old veteran whose footsteps have been weakening in the last few months.

"There are only four of the same company in Jackson county. John Lambert, of Jackson, being not able to come."

The concluding recital offered by the Ladies' Musical will be presented Friday evening at the P. H. S. Auditorium, where Maurice Dumesnil, the eminent French pianist, and Vera Poppe the celebrated cellist appear in a delightfully arranged classical program.

Critics in all of the larger cities have pronounced Miss Poppe to be one of the most celebrated cellists of the day while Dumesnil, the pianist, is said to be a wonderful artist. A large audience is expected.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of Calvary Baptist church will meet Thursday afternoon in the parlors of the church. The following program has been prepared:

Song—Send the Light.
Scripture Reading.
Prayer.

Subject for the meeting: "Our Missions in India."

"News From Sgaw Karen Mission"—Mrs. Brady.

"Our Darrang Field"—Mrs. Chapman.

"The Two Karen Mission"—Mrs. Ford Prior.

"Our Mission at Tomgo Burma"—Mrs. Henry Prior.

The Missionary Question Box will also be a feature of the meeting, followed by a business session.

Miss Eleanor Ellison of Franklin avenue left this afternoon for Hollidaysburg, Pennsylvania, to resume her studies at Highland Hall school. Miss Ellison was detained at home on account of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. J. N. Ellison, who underwent an operation for appendicitis on New Year's day. She is now considered out of danger and her friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Radin of 502 Waller street returned last evening from Columbus, where they spent the week-end with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Radin of Upper Arlington.

Mrs. Elmer Mayne of Ironton and her guest, Miss Georgia DeMarco, of Springfield, Ohio, will arrive the last of the week for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Vetter of Fourth street.

Mrs. John C. Chandler of Timmonds avenue and Miss Jennie Suiters of Hamilton, Mo., have returned from a few days' visit with Mrs. C. L. Huffman of Ironton.

The Junior Class of the P. H. S. will give a party Saturday evening in the gym of the school. The entertainment committee is making extensive arrangements for the event.

You Will Never Understand

how delicious Karo is until you taste it. Nor how economical it is until you serve it to the entire family. Nor what a wonderful energy food it is for little folks until you serve Karo spread on sliced bread. Your grocer sells Karo.

Why not make some delicious Divinity Fudge today?

2 cups Granulated Sugar
1 cup Karo, Red Label
2 Eggs (whites only)
1/2 cup Chopped Nuts
1/2 cup Chopped Raisins
1 teaspoon Vanilla
Boil sugar, Karo, salt and water together until it forms a hard mass in cold water. Beat whites of eggs stiff and gradually pour on the hot syrup, beating constantly. When mixture begins to stiffen, add nuts and raisins, and drop from teaspoon onto oiled plate. This candy may also be made into a roll which may be then covered with dripping chocolate, and rolled in nuts, or simply rolled in chopped nuts. Cut in half-inch slices. Candied cherries, or candied pineapple make a pleasing addition.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE next letter that Nancy picked up from the bundle of "lost letters" in Mr. Stamps' postoffice in the hickory tree was addressed to Mr. Rub A. Dub, Scrub-Up Land. It hadn't been delivered because the writing was so bad nobody could read it, but the twins, with their magical glasses, had no trouble at all.

"Mr. Rub A. Dub!" exclaimed the fairy postmaster. "Why, land alive, he hasn't received a letter for a blue moon. He generally gets a stack along early in the spring when everybody has to go to him for a spring cleaning. Because everybody has soap and water and they all try to get out of it. But this one's been here so long—let me see! Yes, sir! It came last spring and it's been here ever since. Nearly a year old!"

"Shall we take it to Mr. Rub A. Dub?" asked Nancy.

"If you please, ma'am. If you please," said Mr. Stamps, turning away to tell Scramble Squirrel that there was no mail for him that day.

Off to Scrub-Up Land went the twins and found Mr. Rub A. Dub boiling soft soap and getting ready for his spring cleaning.

"Hello, kiddies!" he cried. "What a letter! Well, I declare!"

He tore it open and read: "Dear Mr. Rubadub: Please don't you think I am clean enough without scrubbing me this time. I hate water, and I always catch cold, and it spoils my complexion, and the soap fades me, and anyway, I'm clean enough. It isn't as though I had feathers or fur all over me."

"Or make in a chafing dish, using blazer until the last cooking, which should be done by using hot-water pan."

Puff paste points are made by cutting the trimmings from patties or any leftover piece of paste into pointed triangles. Bake a delicate brown.

The Board of Managers of the Home for Aged Women will hold an important business meeting tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at the Home. All members are urged to be present.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

"Wasn't that a terrible thing," shouted one of the snow men. "That's the first time the sun has come out over Snow Village in a long time." An alien the snow men discovered that one of their number had partly melted away. "Oh, what can we do for this poor fellow?" a snow man asked Jack.

"Oh," replied Jack. "I'll fix him up for you in a hurry. Just you sit down in a circle and watch how easy it is." And as the snow men squatted down on the ground Jack started to work. He planned to build the snow man up just as he had made snow men many times before.

First Jack rolled up a ball of snow and made this into a new pair of snow man legs. These fitted on fine. Then he rolled another ball and made the snow man a whole new head. He used his finger to make a pair of eyes, a nose and a mouth. The snow man smiled as his mouth was finished. (Continued.)

Court Sends Bride Back To Husband; Parent And Probation Officer Rebuked

Miss Myrtle Owens-Smoother, 15 years old, bride of Irvin Smoother, was happily back with her husband Wednesday by order of Judge Thomas' decision granting her application for a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that she was unlawfully restrained of her liberty.

It will be recalled that the girl and Smoother slipped away to Ironton Saturday and were married. Learning of the ceremony Sunday the girl's stepfather, Emory Castle and Miss Emma Hubert, assistant probation officer, went to Smoother's home on Bountiful street and taking the bride into custody, removed her to her former home on Dexter avenue, where she was held under guard for more than forty-eight hours and during that time was chastised, it is said.

Following decisions of other courts, Judge Thomas in passing on the case and restoring the bride to her husband, held that the marriage was valid by the parties themselves and that others could not interfere. The court also rebuked the probation officer and Castle, declaring that they acted entirely without authority of law. Judge Ball, for the defense, contended that the marriage was void by reason of the age of the bride, who, the hearing disclosed, will not be sixteen years old until next September. Attorney Horace L. Small appeared for the Smoots.

Wife Seeks Alimony
Minnie Hopkins, Dry Run, charges neglect in her suit for alimony instituted in Common Pleas court Wednesday against German Hopkins, trucker employed at the N. and W. station.

In her petition filed through Attorney W. R. Sprague, wife says they were married March 1, 1921, and completed that the following August the defendant deserted and abandoned her and ever since has refused to provide for her.

Let Off With Warning
James Howard, Jefferson township farmer, was before the Probate court Wednesday to answer to a complaint filed by A. B. Fenton, county attorney, charging him with failing to send his minor children to school. After hearing his story Judge Gilliland lectured Howard and let him go with a warning on his promise to cause the attendance of his children in school in the future.

Case Continued
Frank Drake, Scottdale youth, before the juvenile court Wednesday for delinquency because he played hooky from school, was lectured by Judge Gilliland and then his case was continued on his promise of better conduct.

Young Men Dismissed
William Sprague and Leo Klaiber, Scottdale young men, charged with disturbing a religious meeting were dismissed by Judge Gilliland Wednesday for lack of jurisdiction by reason of the defendant's being over the juvenile age. Two other youths, Charles Ottaway and J. A. Blankenship, who participated in the alleged disturbance, have not been apprehended.

Wife Makes General Denial
The answer of Mary E. Rowlette, Dayton, to the divorce suit of her husband, William F. Rowlette, filed in Common Pleas court Wednesday through Attorney Byron B. Harlan, Dayton, amounts to a general denial of the charges made against her in the petition. She asks that his suit be dismissed and for such other relief as she may be entitled to in equity.

Wife Charges Neglect and Cruelty
Alleging cruelty and neglect and declaring that about one week after their marriage in November, 1920, she deserted her, Cora Shields, 503 Sixth street, seeks divorce and alimony with custody of their daughter, Jean, now two years old, in her suit instituted in Common Pleas court Wednesday against Edward Shields, shoemaker, Second and Madison streets.

In her petition the wife says that Shields abandoned her without means and claims that ever since he left she has been forced to rely on her people for the support of herself and child, besides, she complains that he quarreled and abused her during the short time she lived with him. She also charges him with misconduct with other women. The wife secured a temporary injunction (ring up his wages in the hands of his employers. The Solly Shoe company. She sued through Attorney Walter L. Dickey.

Conkel Made Defendant
played at Whitaker-Glessner plant at the Whitaker-Glessner plant at New Boston, is made defendant in a suit recently filed in the district court. Converse county, Wyoming, by Edna W. Conkel for divorce and alimony with custody of their child, 22 months old. In her petition filed through Attorney Joseph Garst, Casper, Wyoming, the wife says they were married at Casper, May 5, 1920, and charges neglect, the result of poverty on the part of the defendant, which, the petition alleges, he could have avoided by ordinary industry, declaring that the time of the commencement of his failure to provide for her was a strong side loaded man and capable of earning $150 a month as an oil worker.

Count Home Examination Scheduled
The State Civil Service Commission has scheduled an examination for the position of superintendent of the County Home or Infirmary at the Court House in this city on Thursday March 1, Auditor Roy Coburn was notified Wednesday.

Open competitive examinations are no longer held for the position of Matron, the commission advised, she being appointed by the superintendent after qualifying under the special examining board at the institution.

Auto Show Dates February 15, 16, 17

President Harry S. Howe, of the Portsmouth Automobile Association, announced Wednesday that the definite dates for the holding the local show, February 15, 16 and 17, had been decided upon. The show, which will be the first of its kind ever given in Portsmouth, will be held in the new Universal Garage building, Gallia street, which will be capable of accommodating almost seventy-five exhibitors. President Howe stated that every space had been contracted for and the problem now was to take care of those who desire to exhibit and for whom no space was now available.

It is said there was no question about the new garage being completed in plenty of time. J. F. Taylor, who is erecting the mammoth garage, has given his word that everything would be in the shape for the holding of the show, and that the building would not only be well heated but brilliantly lighted as well.

Efforts are being made to give one of the best shows of its kind ever held in this part of the country. It is likely the association will book a high-class vaudeville act. The hall will be beautifully decorated and nothing left undone that will add to the pleasure and entertainment of the visitors.

The officers of the association are: H. S. Howe, president; R. S. Pritchard, vice president, and J. A. Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

What The Ohio Legislature Is Doing

Following is a record of the activities in the Ohio Legislature Tuesday, including bills introduced and action taken:

Resolutions adopted in House:

Dog Notices Being Posted
Sheriff Harry Dunham and his deputies are busy posting notices on dogs when county commissioners granted his application for parole. Shaffer was arrested on Oct. 4 for possessing a half pint bottle of "moon" and a penalty of $300 was imposed against him. He was employed at the Coke oven at the time.

Shaffer Gets Parole
After serving 106 days in the county jail for non-payment of a fine assessed against him for violation of the liquor laws, Bob Shaffer, Littleton, was released Wednesday when county commissioners granted his application for parole. Shaffer was arrested on Oct. 4 for possessing a half pint bottle of "moon" and a penalty of $300 was imposed against him. He was employed at the Coke oven at the time.

Royce Charges Willful Absence
On the ground of willful absence, James E. Royce seeks divorce from Ellen Royce in a suit filed in common pleas court Wednesday through Attorney W. R. Sprague. He says they were married in December, 1907, and that five children, the youngest now ten years old, were born of the union. He alleges that the defendant deserted him in October, 1919, and that she is now living at 1817 1-2 Parsons avenue, Columbus.

Wife Seeks Alimony
Ethel Eshom, 2120 Eight street, charges cruelty in her suit for alimony and custody of their minor child in an action filed in Common Pleas court Wednesday against Albert Eshom, blacksmith, whom she married in January 1919.

Seeks Divorce and Other Relief
Genevieve Smith, 3768 Gallia avenue, New Boston, charges neglect, cruelty and habitual drunkenness in her suit for divorce and alimony with custody of their minor child, filed in Common Pleas court Wednesday. In her petition filed through Attorney McLaughlin and Staker the plaintiff says that Smith has failed and refused to properly support his family and accuses him of assaulting and otherwise abusing her on various occasions. The wife secured a temporary injunction (ring up his wages in the hands of his employers. The Solly Shoe company. She sued through Attorney Walter L. Dickey.

Charges Neglect and Cruelty
Charging cruelty and neglect and declaring that since their marriage in April 1919 he has been in the habit of traveling about from place to place apparently making no effort to establish a home, Sylvia Bumgardner seeks a divorce and alimony with custody of their minor child in an action instituted in Common Pleas court Wednesday against Robert Bumgardner.

Through Attorney W. R. Sprague the wife complains that Bumgardner has failed and refused to support her and their child properly and declares that he has often assaulted and beat her.

Scott Seeks Divorce
Declaring that they separated three weeks after their marriage on September 14, 1918, because of her keeping company with other men, Raymond Scott seeks a divorce from Myrtle Scott in an action filed in Common Pleas court Wednesday.

Through Attorney W. R. Sprague the plaintiff claims that when he deserted the defendant associating with other men that she declared that she was at the time married to one Fred Clay and had never been divorced. He further states that by reason of the defendant's evil associations she was committed to the Girls Industrial Home at Delaware shortly after the separation.

Search For Body Of Youth Drowned In The Big Sandy

The Ashland Independent says: River men at Catlettsburg and Kavaugh today were using every effort in their power to recover the body of Howard Turman, 17, who was drowned yesterday at lock No. 2 on Big Sandy river while assisting in making repairs on the lock.

Young Turman was the son of J. D. Turman, of Catlettsburg and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Turman of Buchanan, where he was reared and had been living. The Turman family is one of the country's most prominent.

The youth was working with four other men at the lock yesterday when a piece of it was removed during repair. The onrushing water caused a whirlpool which overturned the boat and all the men were thrown into the river. The other four swam ashore and Turman had almost reached the shore when another wave caught him and it is believed he was buried in the sand.

Turman was a cousin of Mr. and Mrs. Carra Duffy of Longmeadow, Scottdale. They would be pleased to have rivermen in this section keep a lookout for the young man's body.

Mr. Streuber At Meeting
Charles Streuber, local broker, is attending the annual session of the National Association of Grocers and Canneries which is being held in Atlantic City this week.

Important Meeting
All members of Delta Camp Royal Neighbors are urged to attend Thursday night's meeting in Den Hur hall as the important question of deciding on a meeting place for 1923 will be decided. Several applicants will also be voted upon.

Short Meeting Held
On account of repairs being made to the hall, only a routine business meeting was held by Manilla Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah Tuesday night. The putting down of a hardwood floor, repapering and painting the hall will be completed in another week.

SOCIETY
Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Flo M. Shively, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Shively of 1123 Second street, and Mr. Roland Toms, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Toms, of 1809 Robinson avenue, which took place last Friday morning in Cincinnati.

The young couple stole a march on their friends by slipping down to Cincinnati, where they were quietly married at Wesley Chapel of the Methodist Episcopal church, with the pastor, Rev. Gervais Roughton, officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Toms visited relatives in the Queen City until yesterday, when they returned to this city, and are now receiving their friends at the home of the bride's parents, where they will reside until spring.

Mrs. Toms is the youngest of the three beautiful daughters of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Shively, and is quite popular with a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Toms is the assistant cashier in the offices of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company on Fourth street and is also quite popular with a large circle of friends, who will be interested in the announcement of his marriage.

Group 9 of Trinity Ladies' Aid Society will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Heid, 1012 John street. All members are urged to be present as business of importance will be transacted.

Miss Mary Hook's Bible Class of the First Evangelical church will meet Thursday evening at the home of Miss Mary Fastau, 719 Third street.

Miss Maud Mitchell and Mr. James A. Sutterfield were quietly married Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock at the parsonage of the First Evangelical church with the pastor, Rev. Samuel Lindenmeyer officiating. Miss Mitchell is a popular show worker while the groom holds a responsible position as telegraph operator with the Western Union.

Miss Millie Prediger, formerly postmistress with Anderson Bros. Company, has resigned her position and has opened a fashionable dress making apartment at her home, 1511 Third street, where she will be glad to welcome her many friends and former customers. Miss Prediger is recognized as an adept in this art and is also an expert fitter and designer of up-to-date women's wearing apparel.

The meeting of Mrs. J. P. Smith's Sunday School class of Trinity Church, scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. H. Shumway, 810 Seventh street, has been postponed indefinitely, as Mrs. Shumway was called to Huntington, W. Va. this morning by the illness of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harold Shumway (Florence Riley).

Will Radio Program

B. M. Tanner, manager of the local branch of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, will leave next week for New York, where he will attend the annual convention of representatives of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

At the concluding event, the Saturday night banquet, the President's address and the addresses of the principal speakers, together with a musical program to be rendered by the Company's Glee Club and Military Band, will be broadcasted throughout the entire country. The service to be used in disseminating the program is the W. E. A. F. Broadcasting Service, using 400 metre wave lengths.

This company has some twelve thousand policy holders in Portsmouth, and those of them owning or having access to a Radio Station will be interested in listening to this program.

Coal Barons Arrested
Told They Would Have To Obey Or Go To Jail
DUESSELDORF, January 17.—(By the Associated Press)—At the conference here yesterday between the French authorities and the operators, General Simon said to the Germans:

"We have not summoned you here for a discussion, but to transmit to you the orders of our government. If you do not see fit to obey them you will be prosecuted before a court martial, condemned and imprisoned."

The industrial leaders fled out of the room without uttering a word, but once outside of the conference hall, they made no secret of their determination to go to jail rather than submit.

LABOR LEADERS ADDRESSED BY GERMANS
Thirty-two labor leaders, representing all the districts and all the trades in the Ruhr, including the Catholic socialists and communists syndicates of miners, railroad men and steel and iron workers, were introduced. Dr. Grotzner, Prussian governor of Dusseldorf province, acted as their spokesman.

General Simon told the labor leaders France was the friend of the working man. The German government, he declared, was responsible for the recent events and was willing to sacrifice the working men to its imperialistic policy. It had permitted the food stocks to the community to become depleted and cared little whether its own nationals starved or not. Dr. Grotzner, laboring under great emotion, rose and said:

GERMAN BRANDS STATEMENTS LIES
"I cannot listen to such lies, to such an unjust arraignment of my government. I withdraw." He then left the conference. The leaders agreed to continue work so long as their work for them, but expressed the opinion that circumstances might cause the industries to shut down.

The French are resolved to carry out their threats of reprisals and imprisonment. It would appear, and the Germans are determined to resist the developments likely to occur of late in the afternoon the magnates do not recede from their present stand.

Experts are at work on a plan for operation of the miners with German labor and French engineers. Additional engineers have been instructed to come from France immediately, are expected to arrive by tonight. They number 200 men, less than one for every pit head in the Ruhr.

Italy Offers To Mediate
LONDON, January 17.—(By the Associated Press)—A Reuter's dispatch from Essen, filed Tuesday, says that according to reports from German sources, four of the Ruhr industrial leaders, including Herr Thyssen, were told by the French authorities at Dusseldorf to consider themselves under arrest after the magnates had reiterated that they would only obey orders from Berlin.

London Daily Express says Berlin government has decided to expel all French civilians from Germany and establish practical state of war against France, apart from fighting.

London declares that Italy has offered to mediate between France and Germany on reparations problem.

Their coal barons, in statement at Hamburg, defend action in withdrawing from Essen and assert that unchecked French control of organization would have meant strangulation of German industry.

An unusually large crowd attended the bazaar given this afternoon in Daesman's Dancing Academy by the Married Ladies of St. Mary's church. Cards were enjoyed from two until five o'clock, when a delicious lunch was served. The bazaar will continue this evening, and up until 11:30 o'clock. Cards will be enjoyed until 10:30 o'clock, when handsome prizes will be awarded the winners. Joyous dances will also be a feature of this evening's entertainment. Booths of fancy work and refreshment stands, a fish-pond, country store and various other attractions will be included on tonight's program. The general public is cordially invited to be present.

W. H. Brumfield, manager of the Winter Garden, has announced a change in the dancing night, beginning with this evening, when dancing will be held on Wednesday and Saturday nights, only, the other nights being open for outside engagements. Dancing on Wednesday and Saturday nights will be from 8:30 until 11:30 o'clock, with the Bluegrass String furnishing the delightful music. Cafeteria lunches will continue to be served each day from 11 until late o'clock.

Group 15 of Trinity Ladies' Aid Society will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Heid, 1012 John street. The assistant hostess will be Mrs. O. D. Donaldson. Business of importance demands a large attendance.

Workman Injured
Edward Collins, 592 Campbell avenue, suffered a painful injury about 7:30 o'clock this morning while working on the new garage being erected for the Watkins Motor Company on Gallia street near Lincoln. He was helping move a big piece of steel when the car caught the calf of his leg, inflicting a deep wound. He was taken to the office of Dr. S. S. Halderman where the injury was dressed. Collins works for contractor Dick Tauson who is putting up the new garage.

Wellston Suffers Quarter Million Dollar Loss In Fire

Hardware Company And Furniture Company Are Completely Wiped Out

Special To Times.
WELLSTON, Jan. 17.—This city was visited by one of the most disastrous fires in its history early this morning when the two-story brick buildings occupied by the Wellston Hardware company and the Hotchkiss Furniture company, with all of their contents, were wiped out by flames, fanned by a high wind, and were not checked until 10:30 this morning. The loss of the Wellston Hardware company is placed at $150,000, with 50 percent insurance, and the loss of the Hotchkiss Furniture company estimated at $75,000, with about $30,000 insurance.

The Elks' Club room, located on the second floor of the building occupied by the Wellston Hardware company, with all its equipment, was entirely wiped out. The lodge carried only a small amount of insurance. On the second floor also were located the offices of attorneys E. H. Willis, Harry Reece, J. H. Browne Coal company, J. C. Clitts and The F. D. Clitts Coal company and the furniture and equipment in each office were entirely wiped out.

The flames spread so rapidly through this building that no attempt was made to enter either the first or second floors and not even a nail was saved in the hardware store, which occupied the largest building in Wellston.

The flames quickly spread to the building of the Hotchkiss Furniture Co. are sweeping through the two floors with such rapidity that no attempt was made to save any of the stock.

For awhile it looked as if an entire city block were doomed, but the firemen, aided by a splendid water pressure, prevented the flames from communicating to adjacent properties. However, the Leach Undertaking company, Lomax Bros. grocers, A. E. Woodrow, grocer, C. L. Lang, shoe dealer, and Shelton's variety store owners moved most of their stock to places of safety as they were in the path of the rapidly spreading flames.

An enormous crowd turned out and assisted the storekeepers in moving their goods to the streets.

Firm Organizers

The Board of Directors of The Ice Cream Bottling company organized at a meeting held Tuesday by selecting the following staff of officers for 1923: J. M. Stockham, president; G. H. Toner, vice president; Russell Stockham, treasurer and J. E. Toner, secretary-manager. These officers together with Mrs. Rose Micklethwaite, Simon Labold and Joseph Toner constitutes the Board of Directors. It was announced that the concern had a good year in 1922 with the outlook for 1923 most promising.

Farm Is Sold

Special to The Times
VANCEBURG, Ky., Jan. 17.—A small farm owned by Wm. Rouark, lying a short distance south of here was sold by Sheriff Frank Lykins at the door of the court house yesterday. This was done to meet certain pressing debts which Rouark had incurred.

The farm was sold to Elmer Cropper on his bid of $650.

Governor Entertains 200,000 At Barbecue

True to his pre-election promises, Governor Jack Walton, of Oklahoma, entertained 200,000 persons at his two-day barbecue during the inauguration ceremonies. L. R. McCann, superintendent of the preparation of the barbecue, over which a regiment of state troops stood guard to preserve order. Scores of old-time fiddlers helped entertain the crowd. Among the thousands of Indians present the photographer caught Chief Lone Wolf, Cheyenne, conversing with Davance Bill, famous as a showman and old-time scout. Three coffee pots, each containing 10,000 cups of coffee, furnished the liquid beverage.

Petry Acquitted

CHARLESTON.—William Petry, vice president of district No. 17, United Mine Workers of America, was acquitted of a charge of driving his automobile while in an intoxicated condition. His car went over the Kanawha river bank on the night of December 31. Charges were preferred by Dr. Gwinn Nicholson and R. H. Winkler. Petry testified he had not taken a drink since January 1, 1922.

Charleston Plans to Expand
CHARLESTON.—Measures presented to the state legislature provides for an extension of the corporate limits of Charleston and the annexation of additional territory. "What's Your Husband Doing?" At Sun

Starting with bargain matinee tomorrow the Jack Ball Stock Co. as their next offering. The story centers around the affairs of two successful divorce lawyers, John and Charles Edgerton, who have built up a reputation in this line of cases. Their wives are unduly jealous and have asked their husbands to discontinue their practice. The wives visit the office as their husbands are discussing a case with an actress, and protest the acceptance of the suit. Arranging with the actress to return later with a retainer of $5,000, the little scene is all laid for the wives. When offered a check for the amount and when Wilgast tears the check up, the wives are cured and advised their husbands they are mad to turn down such a fee. By a clever arrangement the wives and husbands are brought to Honeysuckle Inn in act two and here it is that the fun begins in real earnest.

"Within The Law" Bayard Veiller's great thrilling melodrama will be seen tonight for the final time. All seats are sold for the Thursday night's performance of "What's Your Husband Doing?"

Peerless Lodge Is Inspected

County Deputy E. A. Stedman, of the Knights of Pythias, inspected Peerless Lodge K. of P. Tuesday night and found the lodge in fine shape. One candidate, A. B. Canterbury, was given the first degree or Page rank, and plans were made for conferring the second degree or Esquire rank on two candidates next week. The meeting closed with the serving of refreshments on a smoker.

Europe's War Sparks Analyzed

How Ruhr Invasion May Push Continent Into New Shambles

By Charles Stewart
N.E.A. Staff Writer

OF all the Old World's "threatening situations" of the moment, the one between France and Germany is the simplest, not in its possibilities of further trouble, but as to its immediate cause.

The trouble is just this: Germany insists the allies assessed against her war damages to an amount much larger than she can possibly pay. She agreed to them in signing the Versailles treaty because she couldn't help it, but she says she hasn't the resources to meet them, so she's in default.

France believes Germany could pay if she would and has taken steps to enforce payment. Belgium is helping her. Italy is helping half-heartedly, doubtful of the French policy's wisdom.

Memel Trouble

Such outbreaks as have occurred in the occupied territory have been on a small scale, but in the Memel district, in East Prussia, the trouble has been more serious.

Irregulars known as the "iron wolves", have seized the district on behalf of the adjoining war-torn little country of Lithuania.

Memel was under the League of Nations' protection, with a small French force in possession. This force has been massacred. However, a French warship, expected in Memel harbor, may turn the tables.

Though dominantly Lithuanian sympathies caused this "situation," many people think Germans are responsible, out of resentment for the Ruhr invasion.

The Poles believe Russia is back of the uprising. Poland, much afraid of her big neighbor, Russia, is mobilizing certain classes of conscripts.

Hungary In Bad, Too

In imitation of France's example in using force to collect her war claims against Germany, Rumania and Jugoslavia, the war-enlarged former kingdom of Serbia, are threatening similar action against Hungary.

Bulgaria, jealous of Rumania, is reported massing troops on the Rumanian frontier, presumably on the theory that it will be a good time to strike a blow on her own account in case the Rumanians and Hungarians should become involved in a quarrel.

All the little countries bordering on Russia are afraid the soviets would attack them if they became involved in hostilities elsewhere. Also there's an underlying fear, rather vague, but never forgotten, that Germany might get help from the Russians in an emergency.

The world's six danger points. (1) the Ruhr Industrial Region of Germany which is being occupied by France; (2) Memel, neutral zone city which the Lithuanians have now wrested from French guards; (3) the Rumanian-Hungarian border where clashes between nationals of those countries are reported; (4) Eastern Thrace, ceded to Turkey by the Mudanya armistice, which Greece may try to regain by armed force; (5) Moscow, where the Red Army is said to be mobilizing, and (6) arrow points toward Mosul, claimed by both Turkey and Britain, in the vicinity of which British airplanes have dropped bombs.

Near East Maze

The Near Eastern "threat" lapses over from Europe into Asia. When the war ended the allies made a treaty, with the sultan of Turkey which included a "mandate" to England over the Turkish province of Mosul, a rich oil region—that is, England was placed in charge of this district.

Still jealous of the Turks even then, the English also encouraged Greece's ambitions to extend her power on the Asia Minor coast, west of Mosul. The Turkish Nationalists, however, refused to recognize this arrangement, made by the sultan. They fought the Greeks; beat them; deposed the sultan; repudiated the terms he had made; took back all the territory Greece had held in Asia Minor; demanded Greece's war-won holdings in eastern Thrace, in Europe. Insisted on the return of Mosul to them; said they proposed to resume possession of the straits connecting the Mediterranean and the Black Sea, and declined to allow foreigners living in Turkey the protection of their own home laws and courts, which they had enjoyed in the past.

Conference On

All these questions are still in dispute before the Lausanne (Switzerland) conference.

Russia also has an interest in the Mediterranean Black Sea Straits. She borders on the Black Sea and these straits are her sole sea outlet which is ice-free the year around.

Many of these controversies are independent of the Ruhr invasion, but France's action in the Ruhr has made all of them immediately urgent, since trouble which starts in any one part of the Old World is calculated to precipitate it everywhere.

Blackheaded Pimples Quit With S. S. S.

Why? Pimple-Poison Goes When Red-Blood-Cells Increase! S. S. S. Builds These Red-Blood-Cells.

You can be sure of this, nature has no substitute for red-blood-cells. Pimples, blotches, can't live in the red rivers of your blood as long as there are enough rich red-blood-cells in it. More red-blood-cells! That is what you need when you see pimples starting at you in the mirror. Blackheaded pimples are worse! Eczema is worse yet! You can try everything under the sun—you'll find only one answer, more red-power in your blood! The tremendous results produced by an increase in red-blood-cells is one of the A. B. C's of medical science. Red-cells mean clear, pure rich blood. They mean clear, ruddy, lovable complexion. They mean nerve power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from the blackhead pest, from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions, from rheumatism, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. has been known since 1826 as one of the great, great blood-builders, blood-cleaners and blood-purifiers ever produced. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. Name of Driver Whose Machine Killed Woman In New Boston Still Unrevealed

There were no new developments Wednesday in connection with the investigation into the death of Mrs. Martha Weaver who was run down and killed by a Ford automobile in front of her home on Rhodes avenue, New Boston, a week ago.

Although the officers are still diligently working on the case, no clue has been obtained in respect to the identity of the driver of the death car.

The reward of $100 previously offered for the arrest and conviction of the car driver, was increased to $150 last night when P. H. Lester, New Boston confectioner, added $50 to the fund.

Each package contains a stamped article and enough floss to embroider it. Of course there are dozens of items prominent among which are Dresses, Lingerie, Bed Spreads, Table Covers, Scarfs, Pillows and the like.

Come and get your package now, and get some art embroidery work started for the long January and February evenings that are still before us.

A Sale Of Dresses At $9.98 And Up

Our women's apparel store in a January clearaway offers an assortment of Tricotone, and Poiret Twill dresses, everyone an attractive model of exceptional value and priced so low as to make them irresistible.

These garments are grouped into three special lots, priced at $9.98, $14.98 and $17.50. In the two former lots are models worth up to $27.50 while in the special lot marked $17.50 are dresses worth up to $39.50.

Here is a dress opportunity you will want to take advantage of.

Drugs Excite The Kidneys, Drink Water

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out. They weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water, and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

HAMDEN, January 16.—The McGraw basketball team, boys and girls, motored here Friday night and played the Hamden High School team at the Auditorium. First game between the girls resulted in a victory for Hamden by the score of 4 to 2. Second game was a much faster game between the boys, resulting in a defeat for our boys by the score of 22 to 12.

Boys line-up:

McArthur	FR	Hamden	Woltz
Morrison	FL		Murdoch
Robbins	FL		Smiley
Worley	C		Womeldorf
Sprague	LG
Caskill	LG

Girls line-up:

McArthur	1	2	3	4
Hamden	5	8	2	22
	6	4	0	2

Field goals: Morrison 1, Robbins 3, Worley 5, Murdoch 1, Woltz 3 and Womeldorf 1.

Among the number of out of town people to attend the game were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gaskill, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Layle, Prof. Byrne, Misses Hazel Wareham, Mabel Collins, Ruth Winkoff, Eva Partlow, Anna Hartley, Lucille Gaskill, Lela Worley, Laura Newton, Messrs. Francis Long, Otto Sackett, Peter Morrison, Doug Tippet, Harold Lowry, Will Wright, Joe Foreman, Joe and Everett Wagon, Homer Morrison, James Picher of McArthur, Misses Fay Warner, Wilma and Regenia Barstow and Donald Warner of Dundas.

O. D. Morye of the Gen City Life Insurance Co., Dayton, Ohio, was a Hamden visitor Friday.

C. M. Reese, Ford dealer, has purchased a lot from Wm. Arnold in McArthur where a blacksmith shop has stood for several years. Mr. Reese intends to put up a one story brick building on the lot to be used as a garage.

B. & O. Luggage Agent Pat Murdoch, who was injured while at work at Dundas, two weeks ago, is recovering.

Operator Gerald Woolweaver is working second trick at Dundas on account of regular operator O. S. Ray of Hamden being off on account of sickness.

OAK HILL

OAK HILL, Jan. 17—Mrs. Folsom Foster Stenshorn, Correspondent.

The revival services in progress at the M. E. church are still in full swing and scores of souls are being born into the Kingdom of God.

Rev. Sanford is preaching the truth in a mighty way and it is not an uncommon sight or sound to see and hear men and women shouting their praises to God. The church is crowded to the doors each night and many turned away because of lack of room.

Rev. Sanford will answer the oft repeated query, "Who Made Me?" and where was the Devil during the Flood?" in a special sermon "Thursday night." A special birthday offering will also be taken at this time, a penny for each year of your age. There will also be special music.

Mrs. Edith Dulaney and son Morris spent several days last week with a daughter in Columbus.

Elizabeth Jones is ill.

Mrs. John E. Lewis of Port 2 was the recent guest of her sister, Mrs. Chas. Thompson.

Lucasville Corn Show Will Have Many Features Of Great Value To Farmers

An educational program of much value to all farmers is to be held in addition to the first annual Corn Show at Lucasville Community Hall, Friday and Saturday. The Corn Show and educational lectures are free, the only charge to the hall to be made on Saturday night when the Lucasville high school pupils give a play.

On Friday and Saturday noons lunch is to be served at the Masonic Temple near the Community Hall. The specialists who will be present to make talks on various exhibits and agricultural problems in this county include W. E. Hanger, Farm Crops; N. W. Glines, Potatoes, and R. B. Wilcox, Plants. All Ohio State University experts. In addition farmers from various sections of the county are to make talks. Mr. Wilcox is a specialist in plant diseases. He has been making a study of the raspberry crops in the Cleveland district and last year visited Jefferson township, this county, to inspect raspberry plants. A report on what he found in his investigations will be made Saturday morning.

The moving picture to be shown Friday evening is obtained through the Fish and Game Division of the State Agricultural Department.

A fine premium list has been arranged of which the farmers have evidently taken advantage for soon after its publication a short time ago entries began to pour in from all parts of the county and they are still coming. All entries must be in the hands of the committee not later than tomorrow evening. There is no entry fee. Entries may be left at the Farm Bureau office on Fifth Street, Keokuk's Hardware Store, Wheelersburg; Stockman and Payne's Store, Minford; any store in Lucasville; Johnson and Mercet's Store, Sedan; Bank of Otway, or at the home of R. P. Overluff, manager of the show, West Side.

The complete program for both days of the show including addresses by Farm Crops and Livestock Specialists from the State University, and round table discussions by local grain growers and livestock men follows:

Friday, January 19th.

SELECTS WILL ENTER THE STATE BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT NEXT MONTH AT URBANA, O.

Need Money To Defray Expenses

Manager Julius Baerman of the Selects received notice yesterday that the annual Ohio Amateur Basketball Championship tournament will be held, Thursday, Friday and Saturday February 22, 23 and 24, at Urbana. Last year sectional tournaments were held followed by a state wide tourney in which the Selects of this city came out the victors.

There will be no sectional meets this year, the championship to be decided at the big meet at Urbana where teams from all over the state will gather to fight it out. The Community Club and Paul D. Knight of this city are arranging for the tourney there. All teams are to pay their own expenses. Eighty percent of the teams participating last year in the state tournament represented towns under 500 population. This means the smaller towns have the same chance as the big city teams. The Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa championships were decided last year under the Central States Amateur Independent Basketball organization.

The Selects are short on funds and are open for suggestions as to how they might raise the funds necessary to pay their expenses to the state tournament.

Three Teams Loom In A. L. Fight

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(United Press)—There is a general inclination in baseball circles to consider rather lightly the New York Yankees as factors in the next pennant race.

Why?—Because no strength has been added to the club.

A team that has won two successive pennants should not be in need of reinforcements, when it is a fairly young club.

The Yankees are not an old team and while the club has not secured any more new stars, the Huggins club ought to be stronger in 1923.

The pitchers can't be any worse next year and the chances are they will be improved.

Duke Ruth will be another person and when he is paying strict attention to his business, he will be a great help to the club.

Bob Messel, too, after being shown that he is a person of small importance on the team might work up some pep, the luck of which has prevented him from becoming a wonderful ball player.

With the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago White Sox in the race with them, the Yankees will have no run-away. The St. Louis Browns are dangerous and the Cleveland Indians are building.

The Tigers and the White Sox look like the strongest contenders.

Ty Cobb has gathered himself a great team. Del Pratt at second base and Rip Collins added to his pitching staff will mean much.

Much depends, however, on the recovery of Harry Heilmann, the great batting outfielder, who broke his shoulder late last season.

It was reported recently that the bone was not knitting properly and that physicians had told Heilmann that they were not sure that he would be able to swing a bat again.

Kid Gleason will have a sweet looking team of White Sox if Willie Kamm, the $100,000 third baseman from the Pacific Coast League, delivers according to expectations.

Kamm or no Kamm, the Sox look fine as they are, but a sensational hitting and fielding infielder may be the difference between a pennant and the contender.

Kid Gleason deserves to be rated as one of the greatest managers in the game. After the housecleaning of 1920 he had nothing left but a second baseman, a catcher and a pitcher that later deserted him.

In two years time he collected a team that isn't far removed from the championship class and might be there next season.

In the same class with Gleason as a builder is the Hon. Sir Patrick Moran of the Cincinnati Reds.

Pat had a pennant winner and a world's champion outfit in 1919, but the glory went to the heads of the boys and Pat, being of one-boos ideas, canned almost the whole team.

Of the 1919 champions only Dabner, Roush, Wingo and Luque remain.

In three years, Moran has assembled a team that looks like one that has to be beaten for the next National League pennant.

Despite the frequency with which his structures have crashed under the weight of mid-season burdens, Connie Mack is a builder and his Athletics are going to get there—not next season, but not many after that.

Mack has started to spend money and he doesn't need much more to get a fighting first division team.

Wallace Should Be Good Scout

BOBBY WALLACE, in his day one of the greatest short-stops that ever lived, is a scout for the Chicago Cubs this year.

Wallace should prove a most valuable man to the Cubs from several angles. It is rather surprising that no American League club signed him to act in such a capacity.

No one is a better judge of a ball player than Wallace, and it is a cinch that the Cubs will get none the worst of it from a scouting angle with Wallace looking after their interests.

In addition Wallace should prove a great help to Killefer in the development of his young infielders. Wallace, as past master at shortstopping—touching a runner being his specialty—should be able to polish the rough spots off Killefer's promising youngsters.

Bullseyes Of Baseball

BY BILLY EVANS

The Most Sensational Play I Ever Saw

In the 20 years I have been umpiring I have seen hundreds of remarkable plays.

Some of the plays have been performed by outfielders, although a majority of them go to the credit of the infielders. And then again I have seen the catchers—yes, even the pitchers, turn in some brilliant pieces of fielding to feature a game.

The element of luck very often plays a prominent part in the completion of some brilliant play. Jimmy McAleer, in his day one of the game's greatest outfielders, once told me that the greatest catch he ever made was largely an accident. Here is the way Jimmy tells it.

"Just before the ball was pitched I noticed the glove of the outfielder playing my position on the other team was laying in such a position that it annoyed me and I started in to remove it from my path. As I jogged in the ball was delivered to the batter, who hit a liner to center field.

"Had I been playing my proper position it would have been suicide to try to make the catch. I would have merely held the hit to a single. Having started in to remove the glove, I continued to come in after the ball. I made a shoe-string catch, did a couple of somersaults, came up with the ball and the game was saved.

"It was heralded as the greatest catch of my career, when in reality I pulled the play largely through accident."

To my way of thinking, the credit for the most sensational play I ever saw on the ball field goes to Bill Wambsgans, second baseman of the Cleveland Americans.

More difficult plays have been staged, but for a great many reasons Bill Wambsgans' triple play, unsisted, stands out as the most sensational stunt I ever saw pulled.

The setting helped to make Wambsgans' play great. The stunt was pulled in the world series of 1920.

With Cleveland enjoying a comfortable lead, Brooklyn was battling gamely to cut it down. Jim Bagby was doing the pitching for Cleveland, being hit hard but was getting away with it.

The first two men up for Brooklyn got on—Miller was on first, Kilduff on second. Mitchell, the Brooklyn pitcher, hit a line drive toward right center. It looked like a real base hit. The runners were in motion at the crack of the bat.

Wambsgans leaped in the air, made a wonderful catch of the ball, ran a few feet to second, touching that base and retelling Kilduff, then touching Miller on the line, for a triple play, snuffing out a Brooklyn rally.

I doubt if there will ever be a play that will equal Wambsgans' feat as far as its sensational features are concerned.

TOMORROW—Greatest first-year pitcher ever saw.

Big Game In South Webster Tonight

Tonight the South Webster high school five plays at home with the Ironton high school five as their opponents. Coach Davies, who has a harder game scheduled for later in the week, may attempt to send in a second team against the village five, but if he follows such a course he is sure to make a hurried change, for the Webster school is represented by a mighty fast traveling quintet.

P. H. S. Girls Play Gallipolis Friday

Plans have been made whereby the basketball game scheduled for Friday evening between the P. H. S. girls and the Gallipolis girls will be played on that evening the game to start at 7 o'clock sharp on account of an entertainment in the auditorium at 8.

An effort was made to shift the game to Saturday night but Gallipolis could not come Saturday night so it was decided to move up the time of starting one hour.

This will give time for the game and allow the concert upstairs to start on time.

If further of the Baerman Society has been secured to referee this contest.

Two Real Games

Two basketball games are scheduled for the Sciotoville high school gym Thursday night when the Sciotoville Stars meet the Rosemount Tornado Stars in the main gym, while the preliminary game will be between the Sciotoville Juniors and the Ironton high school class five who fell before the attack of the Juniors in Ironton by a score of 16 to 15.

This will be the first clash between the Sciotoville Selects and the Rosemount quintet. The Selects have had a very successful season so far under the capable direction of Rev. P. A. Cross of Sciotoville M. E. church.

The preliminary game promises to be just as exciting, if not more so, than the second game. The I. H. S. class quintet has not forgotten the defeat handed them by the Junior organization of Sciotoville and are coming to gain that sweet revenge. The Junior Selects believe they can even run up a larger score on the I. H. S. five on the Sciotoville floor than they did on the big floor in the new I. H. S. gym.

Three In One Family—Ernest, Onedia and William, children of Mrs. William Coughlin of Nauvoo are seriously ill with pneumonia.

STAR PLAYER TO REPORT EARLY

NO ball player in either major league takes better care of himself than Stanley Harris, star second sacker of the Washington team.

Harris, always fit, never carries an ounce of superfluous flesh, and right now is easily the best second baseman in the American League, Collins excepted. He is the logical successor of the White Sox star.

Next to baseball, Harris likes his golf. During the playing season he cuts down the golf game, but in the winter goes in for it strong.

Inside of a week Harris will be at the training camp of the Nationals at Tampa, Fla., despite the fact it will be many weeks before the other players report.

Harris likes golf and Tampa, and spends the greater part of his winter there. He will be fit when the Nationals arrive.

FRANKLIN'S GREATNESS

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN was too long regarded as one of the lesser lights of the American Revolution. In truth, he outshone any of his contemporaries, not excepting Washington, in general all-around ability and intellect. His autobiography should be on the bookshelf, not of every library, but of every home. As an example of courage, modesty and thrift it is unparalleled.

Sentiment is turning toward putting Franklin on the pedestal where properly he belongs. The bankers have seized upon his birthday, January 17, as an opportunity for an annual thrift propaganda, and this week has been designated as Thrift Week. And a good thing, too. Thrift is the one thing Americans have to learn if they hope to keep up the high standard of living they now enjoy. "A penny saved is a penny earned," was a saying of Franklin's that has become a classic, and never was a truer one.

One should not overlook, however, the more inspiring things about this printer's apprentice who became great. He walked with kings and talked with nobles, and they did him honor. He brought to America respect in Europe at a time when a more volatile ambassador to France might have worked serious injury to the cause of the Revolution. Let us by all means honor Franklin. But more than that let us not forget Franklin the great.

FAMOUS AND BROKE

THE divine Sarah Bernhardt, the greatest of actresses, perhaps, is at death's door, but refuses to yield. Art calls her back to the stage, but there is a still more imperative call. She has been encouraged to believe, according to reports, that she may return to the stage within a day or two in the fear that the truth would be too great a blow for her. Added to Mme. Bernhardt's worries is the realization that the fortunes which have rewarded her endeavors have been dissipated—largely, it is said, by the indulgence of an unbusinesslike relative. How often the threat of poverty is reserved as the final bitter cup for the last days of those accustomed to fame and wealth! For the artist it is not unusual experience, for it seems often his lot to be unthrifty, unwise in investment or too generous in charity.

Mark Twain found himself in a similar predicament when he was 60 years old. A publishing house in which he was a partner, failed, and he was responsible for its debts. But it was admitted that he was in no way responsible for the collapse of the business and might have escaped liability. Instead of endeavoring to clear his reputation at the least expense, he went on a lecture tour, the proceeds of which, with royalties from his books, were used to pay the debts of the firm.

Next to innocence, retribution willingly undertaken and successfully carried out, is most satisfying. Mme. Bernhardt may be denied that last consolation of true greatness, the serene contemplation of work completed.

SMARTEST

IT seems that every generation has to learn all the old lessons for itself. Well, it certainly is more convincing that way than another. The Junior College of Detroit has just made some tests, and learned what it would seem almost everybody ought to have known already—that girls are smarter than boys.

Those students will learn many things between Now and Then, but if the boys of the Detroit Junior College have firmly annexed the idea that girls are smarter than boys, they are already equipped with a strong weapon. No man who ever amounted to anything did it without some woman's help, and not many of those same men ever gave the woman credit for it, either.

There is one good old hearty pastime in which boys and girls engage, and in former days it was known as courting. An occasional sheik might arise—they were poetically called Young Lochinvars in those times—who could turn the hearts of all the maidfolk. But whichever girl really and truly set her heart upon him, brought him to his knees, sure as fiddlin'. And as for the majority of the young fellows who shined up in store shirts on Sundays and wore tight shoes to the dances, they were just putty on the hands of every girl they met.

The weaker sex? Huh, the brainier sex! Ask the boys of the Detroit Junior College! Ask the boys of any high school for that matter.

What has become of the former Kaiser's press agent, who during the war was wont to describe the war lord standing majestically on a hill overlooking a smoke-filled battlefield?

A Georgia judge says the only safe "triangle" for a man to get mixed up with is a wife, a pipe and a dog. That isn't a triangle; it squares the world.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTIRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—It was a rosy morning with Fifth Avenue sparkling with life. Elegance, belles and dumbbells. I stood on the public library steps and here are a few things I saw:

A beautiful woman smartly dressed. She edged along the curb and a uniformed messenger brushed her. She did not know it, but near her, watching was a man known to be a private detective.

An ex-serviceman came down the library steps. He was mumbling. He pushed a cigarette held in an attitude of hand. On the other hand was a book by Coe. A girl spoke to him—a girl whose face bore unmistakable imprint of the oldest profession. And they walked off together.

The gaunt old man with his basket of dirty puppies came out from Bryant Park. A couple stopped and peered into the basket. He took out the wiggling charges one by one. They a policeman came—the old man left and the couple missed buying a prize possession. Touch!

Then the funny little man, with a toothbrush mustache, who wore a green fuzzy hat. He carried a bird cage. Something had gone wrong. Twice he failed a passing bus, but did not leave the curb. His hip had a suspicious bulge. So that, perhaps, is the answer.

Across the street a limousine drew up in front of a fur shop. Out of it stepped three girls. Two of them wore fur coats. The third was just a little out of the picture. But in a few moments when they left the shop she was wearing a Chinchilla that would excite even Fifth Avenue. But she was brushing tears from her eyes. It may have meant nothing—but to me it was real drama.

O, yes!—nearly forgot—a movie hero with marcelled hair and opalescent orbs was bawled out by one of the corner traffic cops. He was in too much of a hurry to cross the street. But you couldn't blame him much for the gorgeous creature who awaited him on the other side was magnificent to behold.

The Bowery now has its Hobo College at No. 550. Among the road gentry are many of erudition. A professor of applied philosophy spoke the night I was there. He used words that were meaningless—but, lovely. He was followed by a political economist, who once graced a Midwest college. In the summer months they take the open road, but during the winter they migrate to New York. I talked to one ragged, bearded fellow who seemed to me to have read only one book, and that was Spencer's Theory of Evolution. Perhaps I am wrong, but all the professional hobos I have met appear to be half-cracked. Yet there is something about their don't-care outlook that has its appeal.

Near the Hobo College is the Flat Den—a tin cellar hutch. In it I saw a young fellow who has made a niche for himself in Tin Pan Alley. He sat at a battered old table with a rough-looking customer. I was told he was the musician's uncle and that every few months he dropped in to see him.

One of the ailments that has afflicted New York physicians is the "hends." It afflicts hardy workers who toil in compressed air. During the building of the tubes under the Hudson river scores were stricken with it daily. Air bubbles get in the blood and retard circulation. Now it has been found that skipping the rope will cure the ailment. Workers who are subject to it are carrying their skipping ropes along with their lunch baskets. Doc Koko's KOLUM

The author was a promising young boy 19 years old, with a longing for all that was beautiful. He was killed in the war in 1918, and the following little verse was found on his person.

Fulfilled
Though my hands have not learned to model
The dreams of a groping mind,
Though my lips have not spoken their music,
And are leaving no song behind,
Think not that my life has been futile,
Nor grieve for an unsaid word,
For all that my lips might never sing,
My singing heart has heard.

I have etched the light on the willow
With neither a plate nor style;
I have made a song of the crescent moon,
A poem of only a smile.
Are they lost because lips could not know them?
I have songs that my heart has known—
Am I wholly mute who have sung with my heart and my heart alone?
And sung with my heart alone?
—F. A. Hogan.

Three Words A Day

EVENTUALITY
Noun: pronounced ee-ven-tu-al-tee, accent on fourth syllable. That which happens from the force of circumstances; a result of environment. Example: The eventuality of the case made the final result inevitable.

COLLUSION
Noun: pronounced ko-lus-shon, accent on second syllable. Secret agreement for harmful or fraudulent purpose; a secret understanding between two, or more persons for unworthy purposes. Example: Those two are in collusion, and must be watched.

DILATORY
Adjective: pronounced dil-a-to-ri, accent on first syllable. Slow, tardy; not prompt; marked by procrastination or delay. Example: He may not be lazy, but he certainly does his work in a dilatory manner.
